A Higher Level

High Point University Athletics moved to a higher level in 2003-2004. The women’s soccer team and the men’s cross country teams won Big South Conference Championships. The men’s and women’s basketball teams finished the regular season in third place. The men’s basketball team advanced to the Big South championship game played on national television. Danny Gaithers’ game winning shot against Charleston Southern created a national media buzz, and is being considered for an ESPY award. Danny was also named honorable mention All-American, Big South Player of the Year, and the tournament’s Most Valuable Player. Bart Lundy, in his first year as men’s basketball coach, was named the 2004 National Rookie Coach of the Year by collegeinsider.com. Lundy helped the Panthers improve by 12 victories from last season (the nation’s second-biggest turnaround). Taylor Milline became the first High Point track & field athlete ever to qualify for a spot in the NCAA Division I Championships. He was one of the 14 best milers in the country. Men’s tennis was nationally ranked during the season, and advanced to the conference final. Academically, High Point student-athletes continued their outstanding performance. They carried a cumulative grade point average of 3.0, and twenty (20) student-athletes finished the first semester with a perfect 4.0. For the second-consecutive year, High Point’s women’s cross country team was named an Academic All-American Cross Country Team with Distinction by the Women’s Intercollegiate Cross Country Coaches Association.

The support of the Panther Club was critical to this success. Each year the Panther Club helps to fund student-athlete scholarships, facility improvements, and operating expenses for all sixteen (16) varsity sports.
